TEN CENTS A WEEK

150 PERSONS LOSE LIVES IN SHIPWRECK

Fifty Corpses Have Been Recovered by Divers.

RESPONSIBILITY IS NOT PLACED

Thrilling and Pathetic Stories Are Told by the Few Who Survived the Wholesale Death When the Large Steamer Sank.

Block Island, R. I., Feb. 14.—The Associated Press communicated Wednesday with Captain McVey and Purser Young, of the steamer Larchmont, and from them it was learned that a conservative estimate of the loss of life by Tuesday's disaster was one hundred and fifty.

Both Captain McVey and Purser Young are suffering severely from both the physical pain and from the mental anguish caused by their terrible experiences. Neither man is able to leave his bed.

Block Island, R. I., Feb. 14.—The recovery of the bodies of the victims of the steamer Larchmont, sunk in collision with the schooner Harry Knowlton, late Monday night, proceeded slowly and with difficulty during the night.

Up to 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, however, 51 bodies had been gathered in by coast patrols and vessels. Those of the survivors still stood at 19.

Purser Oscar A. Young, of Providence, still maintained Wednesday there were from 125 to 150 passengers on board the steamer when she left Providence for New York, and that most of the survivors were able to express an opinion were inclined to support his figures rather than those of Captain George W. McVey, of the Larchmont, who estimated the number of passengers at from 50 to 75. From some of the surviving officers, it was learned that the Larchmont carried a crew of 45 men, of whom only 10 are accounted for. This means a total of 150 to 200 people aboard the Larchmont, nine passengers and ten sailors have survived. Their condition is pitiable, but two physicians are in almost constant attendance upon the sufferers and express confidence that none of the injured is likely to succumb.

One of the ship's officers stated that the Larchmont carried eight lifeboats and four life rafts. At 8 o'clock Wednesday it was believed that five of these boats and one raft had been accounted for.

There are only two women among the survivors, Mrs. Harris Feldman of New York, and Miss Sadie Gallup of Boston.

During the night the coast guards from the two life saving stations, aided by a large number of the populace, patrolled the beach and on the water front for bodies. Every corpse that came ashore was incased in ice several inches thick.

On a piece of the after deck of the steamer was picked up two survivors and one dead man, all that remained of 16 who had sought refuge on the frail support. Little hope was felt that occupants of the missing life boats and rafts had survived the fearful cold, which moderated but slightly during the night.

Among those lost is said to have been a little squad of Salvation Army workers from Worcester.

This band of Salvationists, said to have numbered ten persons, furnished, according to reports one of the thrilling incidents of the disaster. When it was evident that the boat must sink, and the frenzied passengers were endeavoring to get into the boats, the Salvation Army soldiers are said to have fallen to their knees where they joined in prayer, invoking the Almighty to save and protect the shipwrecked people. Only one of this little band, a woman, is said to be among the survivors.

Mrs. Feldman, of Providence, one of the survivors, in describing the collision, said as follows:

"I was helpless, so utterly beyond human aid. In the agonized cries of frightened women and the shouts of men, I suddenly felt my husband seize my arm and force me to where they had started to lower the captain's long boat. Men were climbing in, but my husband and some man I don't know, lifted me in.

"I can never forget the cries of anguish and terror that arose from those who sank with the ship that disappeared like magic under those white-capped waves. As the steamer sank I could hear some sweet-voiced women singing a gospel hymn—it was 'Onward, Christian Soldiers.'

"Just as soon as we got away from the doomed ship the waves began to break over us, and we were drenched to the skin.

"The salt water froze on us and I began to pray that I might die, but God was merciful to me. My husband and another man would slap me and kept rubbing my arms and body. I think it saved their lives as well as my own, for it kept our blood in circulation.

"After untold sufferings, we finally got ashore at daybreak."

BAILEY GROWS WRATHY.

Once More the Texas Senator Shows His Anger.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 14.—When Representative Cooke was asked whether he had any more witnesses to come before the committee, and what he intended to prove by them, he replied that there were six or seven additional witnesses whom he desired examined, most in rebuttal, but that there was one witness whom he had asked for at first he was very desirous to have come. This was J. D. Suggs, of Iron county, who had been summoned but had been prevented by illness from coming before the committee. He said he expected to prove that Suggs has, or had destroyed a note for $7,000 given to him, or his dead brother by Senator Bailey.

Senator Bailey indignantly replied: "Mr. Chairman, that is a lie. It is infamy to allow any man stand here and make a statement that is a downright malicious lie, and a lie made out of whole cloth."

Chairman O'Neil said that he thought the statement was uncalled for.

Telegraphers May Strike.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—The Union telegraph operators employed by the Western Union in Chicago will take a vote next Sunday on the question of going on strike to enforce certain demands that have been made on the company. This action was decided upon Tuesday night, after a committee appointed by the local branch of the union, to negotiate with the officials of the company reported back to headquarters that they had failed in their object. The telegraphers made a demand for a wage increase of 10 per cent and the re-instatement of several of their fellow workers, whom the company discharged because of the affiliation with the union.

Confident of Success.

Tokio, Feb. 13.—Afternoon.—Despite the apparent hitch in the Japanese negotiations between President Roosevelt and the San Francisco school board authorities confidence continues in the president's final success. Reports from abroad received here from a creditable source agree in attributing the talk of war with America as an anti-Japanese agitation, the work of emissaries of a power hostile to Japan.

Atlanta Boy Gets Advancement.

Atlanta, Feb. 14.—As the result of the resignation of Gage E. Tarbell, as second vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, which was announced in Tuesday's New York dispatches, it is very probable that Henry L. Rosenfeld, a former citizen of Atlanta, and one of the brightest young men in the life insurance business, will be advanced even higher in the Equitable's service.

Think He Is Constantine.

New York, Feb. 14.—A man giving the name of Louis Duval, was arrested Wednesday on a street corner by two detectives who suspected him to be Frank J. Constantine, Jr., wanted in Chicago, on the charge of having murdered Mrs. Arthur Gentry on January 6, 1906. The prisoner's identity is being investigated.

RUN IS MADE ON LOOTED BANK

Shortage Will Probably Reach Half a Million.

POLICE PROTECTED THE VAULTS

Bank Takes Advantage of the Ninety-Day Clause, Which Closes the Bank Without Notice for that Period of Time.

New Britain, Conn., Feb. 14.—It was learned Wednesday that the shortage at the Savings bank of New Britain, through the alleged speculations of the missing treasurer, William F. Walker, may amount to half a million dollars. The run on the bank being filled with men and women when the doors were thrown open at 9 o'clock. The majority of those withdrawing their savings are foreigners. There was considerable disorder around the bank and an extra force of policemen were called to check it. About $170,000 has already been withdrawn.

All 11:30 o'clock the savings bank of New Britain stopped the payment of money to depositors.

Acting Treasurer Oldershaw made a statement that to protect the interests of the bank, it was necessary to stop payment and invoke the ninety-day clause, which closes the bank without notice for that period of time.

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 14.—That William F. Walker, missing treasurer of the Savings bank of New Britain, who is alleged to be responsible for a $350,000 shortage at that institution, made big inroads into the $75,000 fund of the Connecticut Baptist convention, of which he was the treasurer, was positively made known Wednesday as a result of a special audit of the tentative report of his accounts instituted a week ago. The committee appointed by the Baptist Society will make a full report within a few days at a meeting of the trustees. President Thompson, of the Society, said that a large number of railroad bonds placed in Mr. Walker's hands are missing. Their market value was $7,000. There are other shortages in the accounts of Mr. Walker as treasurer of the Society, it is alleged, but the trustees are at present unable to state whether or not the larger part of the funds in his care has been lost.

Mr. Walker was one of the most prominent men in the Baptist denomination in the state.

Bid Farewell to Bryce.

London, Feb. 14.—A great crowd of personal and political friends gathered at Euston Railroad station Wednesday to bid farewell to James Bryce, the ambassador of Great Britain to the United States and Mrs. Bryce, who proceeded to Liverpool in a car attached to the regular steamer train. At Liverpool they boarded the White Star steamer Oceanic, and shipped for New York. The send-off which the new ambassador received here was really enthusiastic. Among those present were the earl of Crewe, lord president of the council; Herbert Gladstone, secretary of state for home affairs; Lord Fitzmaurice, under secretary for foreign affairs; Lewis Harcourt, first commissioner of public works, and Mrs. Harcourt; Lord Strathcona, high commissioner of Canada.

Policemen Shot Each Other.

Knoxville, Tenn., Feb. 14.—A special to The Sentinel from Rogersville, Tenn., says Policemen James Wright and James Barrett of Middlesboro, Ky., shot and killed one another in a raid of an alleged gambling resort at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. Both men were shot near the heart.

Safe Blowers Secure $1,200.

Hillsboro, Ind., Feb. 14.—The safe of the Citizens' bank at Yeddo, 12 miles from here was blown open by five men and $1,200 was secured. The front of the bank building was blown out. The robbers escaped.

WOULD BAR FROM MAILS,

And Roosevelt Names Sinning Newspapers in Thaw Case.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—President Roosevelt notified the members of the cabinet Tuesday that he would personally favor excluding from the mails two New York newspapers, and one Brooklyn paper, which he named, for publishing in detail the "foul, disgusting particulars" of the Thaw trial.

The proposal provoked a very earnest discussion, but it was the opinion of the president's advisers that such damage as the case would work upon the public morals had already been wrought, and that by the time the exclusion order could be carried into effect, the case would practically be at an end.

The three papers mentioned by the president published almost entire the recital of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw on the witness stand, and one paper used a stenographic report.

Postmaster General Cortelyou has given it as his opinion that it will be impossible to bar the publications above referred to from the mails. He says it is impossible to establish any fixed regulation in similar cases, as no two cases are alike, and each case must stand on its own merits. It is likewise recognized that in nearly all such cases the damage has been done before it is possible to get official action.

Mr. Cortelyou said that he had turned over to the attorney general papers of some similar cases, together with court decisions, with a request that he read them. Mr. Cortelyou said that he had turned over to the attorney general papers of some similar cases, together with court decisions, with a request that he read them. Mr. Cortelyou will discuss the matter later with the attorney general.

THAW JUROR'S WIFE ILL.

More Expert Testimony Line of the Defense.

New York, Feb. 14.—The illness of the wife of one of the jurors in the Thaw case Wednesday caused the abandonment of the usual morning session.

Mrs. Joseph B. Bolton, the wife of Juror No. 11, is said to be threatened with pneumonia, and some apprehension is felt lest her illness may seriously interfere with the trial.

Mr. Bolton asked permission of Justice Fitzgerald by telephone early Wednesday morning to visit his home in company with two court officers, and it was granted. He lives far out on Boston road, in the Bronx and had not returned to the court building at 10:30, the time for court to convene.

Mr. Jerome made the formal motion in court stating the reason for said that under the circumstances his action, and Justice Fitzgerald said that under the circumstances the morning session would be abandoned to await the return of the juror.

Thaw was not brought into court. He remained in the prisoner's pen when he had a long chat with his wife.

Thaw's Part of Coke Trust.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 14.—Benjamin Thaw, Alexander Blair Thaw and T. Chalmers Darsie, trustees of a certain fund established under the will of the late William Thaw, have filed an account for audit in the orphans' court showing that Harry Kendall Thaw will receive $12,650.08 as his share from that portion of his father's estate embracing what is known as the coke trust for the period between July 19 and November of last year. Alice Thaw, countess of Yarmouth, and the other seven children of William Thaw will receive a like amount from this source. The nephews will receive half that amount. The coke trust includes all the coke and coal properties owned by the late William Thaw in the United States coke region, and most of the properties have been leased on royalties and bring in large returns yearly.

Movement of Cavalry Postponed.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 14.—Orders received here are to the effect that the movement of the Tenth cavalry from Nebraska for the Pacific coast for the Philippines, has been postponed from Feb. 26 to March 1. This is done in order to get benefits of the colonists rates.

TILLMAN TANK TO BE ABOLISHED

Dispensary System Inaugurated by the Senator

IS ORDERED TO CLOSE DOORS

Press and Pulpit Killed the Dispensary—New Law Provides for Local Option as Between County Dispensaries and Local Option.

Columbia, S. C., Feb. 14.—The South Carolina state dispensary, fathered by Senator B. R. Tillman and inaugurated in 1893, was abolished by the adoption of the Carey-Cochran bill in the state senate Tuesday night by a vote of 83 to 15.

The new law provides for local option as between county dispensaries and prohibition. The bill adopted

SENATOR TILLMAN.

(Who Fathered South Carolina State Dispensary.)

had already been passed by the house but will go back on a few amendments originating in the senate.

Owing to the large anti-dispensary majority in the house, the measure will undoubtedly become a law.

The bill provides that elections shall be held in the various dispensary counties in May next, allowing county dispensaries or prohibition as the voters see fit. The eighteen prohibition counties remain "dry" for two years more.

The house has already passed a bill providing for the winding up of the affairs of the state dispensary. This measure calls for an executive committee of seven bonded members, who shall have entire control of the state establishment. They are allowed $5 per day and expenses, their pay to cease January 11, 1908.

The passing of the state dispensary mark's a new era in South Carolina politics, the liquor question having been the leading one in this state for 14 years.

To the press and pulpit of the state may be attributed the downfall of the institution.

Will Ask Continuation of Trial.

Lexington, Feb. 14.—As a result of a conference between their attorneys and Judge James Hargis and Ed Callahan, of the Breathitt county case, who are charged with the assassination of Dr. B. O. Cox, the continuation of the trial will be asked when it is called next Monday. The case was set by Special Judge Carnes for that date. Hargis and Callahan are anxious to have the trial postponed because they are to be tried here in April for the assassination of James Cockrell, late town marshal of Jackson.

Two-Cent Fare Very Popular.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 14.—The senate on Tuesday unanimously passed a bill providing for 2-cent fare railroad rates. The bill is almost identical with the one previously passed by the house.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 14.—The house has passed the senate 2-cent fare bill.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 14.—Iowa's 2-cent fare measure passed the house Tuesday. Cheers greeted the passage of the measure.

THE BIBLE CONFERENCE.

Thursday's Services Were Well Attended, and Were Interesting.

Thursday's services at the Tabernacle were fairly well attended, it being noticeable that the audience is growing larger each day.

In the morning at 9:45 Prof. Miller delivered an interesting sermon along the line of Bible teachings. He was followed by Dr. David V. Gwilym in another delightful lecture on the series, "The Epistle to the Romans in Relation to Modern Thought." Dr. Gwilym is creating a great deal of interest in this series, and his congregation grows larger each day.

It was announced that the sermon for the evening would be delivered by Dr. Gwilym, but the arrangements were afterward changed, and the congregation was treated to another fine sermon by Dr. G. L. Hanscom, the eminent Congregational divine, who is pastor of the Jacksonville church. Dr. Hanscom is a preacher of both eloquence and power, and commanded the closest attention of his hearers.

Prof. Geo. U. Butler of Chicago, a noted singer with a sweet tenor voice, arrived in the city Thursday, and will render solos during the remainder of the Conference. Prof. Butler has been for several years associated with the great Dr. Terry, and is merely filling in the time here pending the opening of a big meeting in Buffalo, N. Y.

Services will be held today at 9:45 and 11 a. m., Prof. Miller delivering the first sermon and Dr. Gwilym the second. There will be the regular service at 2:45 this afternoon, and in the evening at 7:30 Dr. Gwilym will deliver his lecture on "A Visit to Samaria." Those who love good preaching should not fail to attend these services.

Will Witness Work.

The meeting of Alachua Camp, Woodmen of the World, which will be held this evening in the lodge room on East Union street, promises to prove of unusual interest, since the Archer camp will send a delegation to witness the work of this lodge. There will be two candidates before Alachua Camp tonight, and inasmuch as the degree team enjoys the reputation of doing the work well, the visiting brothers will doubt be impressed and benefited.

DEATH AT HAWTHORN.

Major George Shockly, U. S. A., Expired Suddenly Wednesday.

Major George Shockly, United States Army, retired, expired suddenly of acute indigestion at Hawthorn, where he was spending the winter, Wednesday afternoon.

Deceased appeared perfectly well in the forenoon of Wednesday, and was in his usual good mood. About one o'clock he was stricken, however, and died two hours later.

Deceased was a native of Pennsylvania. He was seventy years of age, and has spent twenty-three consecutive winters at Hawthorn, where he was quite popular.

Deceased is survived by one brother and two sisters. The remains were embalmed by Dr. T. F. Thomas and shipped to Lewistown, Pa.

GRACE ALINE KNOX.

The subject of this sketch, Grace Aline Knox, the eldest daughter of Mrs. Aline Knox, of Micanopy, was born March 21, 1896; and died Feb. 11, 1907. She gave her heart and life to God and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in the year 1905.

The writer has been told of how brightly and beautifully her face did shine on the night of her conversion and how humbly she prayed by her bed-side every night and morning since that time. She was a sweet, obedient, loving child, always ready to her widowed mother.

During her last illness, of only seven days, all was done for her that loving hands and medical skill could possibly do; but God in His infinite wisdom saw fit to take her to her heavenly home. Her father preceded her to the "better land" just seven years and two months ago. She leaves a widowed mother, grandmother, grandfather, two brothers, one sister, some uncles and aunts, other relatives, and many friends to mourn her departure, but they do not mourn as those who have no hope, because they know that Grace is at home with Jesus.

Among her last words were these: "I'm going home." Her family, church, school and community will greatly miss her, but we bow in humble submission to "Him who doeth all things well."

Early in the morning of February 12, her precious body was taken to her church, where appropriate services were conducted, and then to the Micanopy cemetery where the services were concluded and the mortal remains laid to rest.

Our whole town sympathizes with the heartbroken loved ones, and prays for sustaining grace to be given them in this hour of sore bereavement.

Her Pastor, T. L. Z. BARR.

To Come to Gainesville.

While no authentic information has been given out, it has been stated by a prominent citizen of Gainesville who should be in a position to know, that Hon. J. T. Willis of Starke, Judge of the Eighth Judicial Circuit, proposes to bring his family here and make this his future home.

It is further rumored that this distinguished jurist has purchased a desirable lot on West Liberty street, and proposes to erect thereon one of the most elaborate homes in the city.

Judge Willis and his estimable family would be gladly welcomed as residents.

Surveyor Patton Happy.

Surveyor J. W. Patton is happy over a big timber deal of a tract in Polk county which was consummated by his efforts, as well he might be, as it brought him in a nice check as commissions for his work.

Mr. Patton is not only one of the best posted men on land matters in Alachua county, but knows a few things about property in other sections of the State.

The way of the transgressor is Lard

The wise housewife specifies Cottolene every time in place of lard. Any one with a particle of respect for his stomach would prefer a pure vegetable product to one made from hog fat.

Cottolene is always pure; lard isn't.

Cottolene will make more palatable food than lard, and food that any stomach can digest with ease. Lard is a friend of indigestion.

Cottolene is put up in odor-proof sealed tin pails; most lard comes in bulk, and will absorb any old odor which is near it.

You can prove every word we say by buying and trying a pail of Cottolene. All good grocers sell it; all the great cooking authorities of America recommend it.

COTTOLENE was granted a GRAND PRIZE (highest possible award) over all other cooking fats at the recent Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and food cooked with COTTOLENE another GRAND PRIZE.

"Home Helps" a book of 300 choice recipes, edited by Mrs. Rorer, is yours for a 2 cent stamp, if you address The N. K. Fairbank Company, Chicago.

A NEW FEATURE—The patent air-tight top on this pail is for the purpose of keeping COTTOLENE clean, fresh and wholesome; it also prevents it from absorbing all disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.

Nature's Gift from the Sunny South

At the Opera House.

A fairly good audience greeted Hubert Labadie at the opera house Thursday night, Mr. Labadie and his excellent company presenting Goethe's immortal drama, "Faust."

The entire caste was good. In the role of Mephisto, Mr. Labadie was "delightfully devilish," and demonstrated the fact that he was an able actor. Ray B. Brown made an ideal Faust, appearing to be admirably suited to the role.

Marguerite, the sweetly sympathetic heroine, was acted cleverly by Miss Mary Von Tromp, while Miss Helen Alexander gave a most satisfactory delineation of the role of Martha. In fact, the entire caste was clever, and those who attended were well pleased with the show.

John H. Sparks' Shows.

The well known and popular John H. Sparks' Shows appeared in this city Thursday afternoon and evening, and at each performance there were big crowds, notwithstanding other attractions in the city. The attendance was evidence that this popular show has lost none of the reputation it has made here on the occasion of previous visits.

The show more than sustained its former reputation, as it was even better than upon the last visit here. It has been considerably enlarged by the addition of many new acts and features, all of which were clever.

For Marshal.

I respectfully announce my candidacy for the office of City Marshal at the election on April 9th, 1907. If elected I shall perform the duties of the office without fear or favor.

DRESS PARADE TODAY.

University Battalion Will Hold Weekly Ceremony This Afternoon.

The battalion of the University of the State of Florida will hold its regular weekly dress parade on the University campus this afternoon, beginning at 4:30 o'clock.

These exercises are very pretty and interesting, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to witness them. At each exercise many ladies are present, which encourages the boys a great deal.

Will Build New Home.

Willie W. Colson, who recently sold his home in East Gainesville to J. J. Haymans, has purchased another lot on Palmetto avenue, and will erect another neat home. This house will contain about eight rooms, and will be modern and up-to-date in every respect. Work on the new building will begin as soon as material can be secured.

Important Trade Mark Decision.

Lynchburg, Va., Feb. 14, 1907.—A decision of importance to all manufacturers of trade mark goods has been awarded by Judge Pritchard in the United States Circuit Court of this district.

The question involved was whether the Allen Brothers Tobacco Co. of Lynchburg, Va., has the legal right to use on its "Traveler" brand of plug tobacco a tag similar in size, shape, color, and slant of lettering, but different as to wording, from that used by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. of Winston-Salem, N. C., on its "Schnapps" Plug Tobacco.

In the argument, on motion of the plaintiff, the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., that a restraining order be issued forbidding the defendant company from further imitating its tag, many affidavits were submitted tending to show that owing to the similarity of the tags, the "Traveler" tobacco, purchased by dealers at a lower price, was sold to uneducated chewers for "Schnapps."

In a decree signed by Judge Pritchard, the Allen Brothers Tobacco Company is enjoined from manufacturing, putting up, advertising, selling, or offering for sale plug tobacco bearing a tag identical with or like the "id tag of the complainant, known as the "Schnapps" tag.

According to this decision, no manufacturer can imitate even in color, shape, or style of lettering, the trade mark of another manufacturer, even though the wording be entirely different.

The Fractured Leg.

A visitor was going through the children's surgical ward of one of the city hospitals when he spied a little fellow with his legs in the air and his weight resting on his head and shoulders. Going closer, he saw that the boy's feet were fastened with ropes which passed through a pulley above. At the other ends of the ropes were weights, just heavy enough to hold the boy's legs in the air without lifting him entirely off the bed.

"What's all that about?" asked the visitor. "Doesn't it hurt him?" "Not at all," answered the physician who was accompanying. "He doesn't look unhappy, does he? That's the way we always handle fractures of the leg with a child. Otherwise the youngsters squirm around so that they work the splints loose. Only one of this boy's legs is injured, but they are both swung in the air for his greater comfort."—New York Post.

Sorrows of a Humorist.

"This thing of being a humorist is about the saddest thing I know," sighed Simeon Ford. "An ordinary person can have his moods and humors as he pleases, but I must always be on the job. I am constantly being invited out, not because I'm liked for myself alone or because of my manly beauty, but because I am expected to entertain the assemblage. The rest of the company may be as dull as dishwater, but if I do not shake up the gathering with a few jokes the hostess glares at me and really feels resentful. I may be sunk in the slough of despond, but just as soon as I take my seat all lean forward and eye me expectantly. My son, never get a reputation for being funny. It is the most mournful thing on earth."—New York Press.

Teeth of Chambermaids.

Have you ever noticed that every chambermaid who has been taking care of the hay and feathers for a number of years is usually devoid of a few teeth of the upper "case"? Veteran chambermaids can seldom show a full set of upper teeth. The absence of the ivory is explained as follows by a downtown dentist: "The teeth of the maids which I replace with artificial ones are pillowcase teeth. They are constantly used in putting on pillowcases and are not strong enough to stand the strain. Their work is a constant wear and tear on the teeth."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Faithful Little Guide.

Offtimes I have seen a tall ship glide by against the tide as if drawn by some invisible towline with a hundred strong arms pulling it. Her sails hung unrolled; her streamers were drooping; she had neither side wheel nor stern wheel. Still she moved on steadily in serene triumph, as if with her own life. But I knew that on the other side of the ship, hidden beneath the great hulk that swam so majestically, there was a little toiling steam tug with a heart of fire and arms of iron that was hugging it close and dragging it bravely on, and I knew that if the little steam tug untwined her arms and left the tall ship it would wallow and roll about and drift hither and thither and go off with reluctant tide, no man knows whither. And so I have known more than one genius, high decked, full freighted, wide sailed, gay pennoned, that but for the bare toiling arms and brave, warm-beating heart of the faithful little wife that nestled close to him so that no wind or wave could part them would soon have gone down stream and been heard of no more.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

A Fatal Sleep.

Hugh Miller, the Scottish geologist and writer, was one of the most illustrious of sleepwalkers. Miller, who had been addicted to somnambulism in his youth, found his restlessness return while he was engaged upon his "Testimony of the Rocks." He used to wake in the morning feeling, as he said, as if he had been abroad in the night wind, dragged by some invisible power and ridden by witches. On the night of his death he slept alone. In the morning they found him stretched dead on the floor with a bullet through his breast. He had written a note to his wife: "My brain burns. I must have walked, and a fearful dream rises upon me. I cannot bear the horrible thought. My brain burns as the recollection grows." So intense had been the poor fellow's anguish that to make certain his end he had torn back shirt and vest and placed the muzzle of the pistol to his naked flesh.—St. James' Gazette.

The Danes.

The Danes, or Northmen, first became prominent in European history in 783, when they began to ravage the north coast of France and southern shores of Great Britain. The daring of these hardy seamen was remarkable, for in their small ships they even penetrated the Mediterranean and became terrors to the seaboard population of Italy, Sicily and Greece. The first king of Denmark is said to have been Skjold, 60 B. C.

Throat
Coughs

Ask your doctor about these throat coughs. He will tell you how deceptive they are. A tickling in the throat often means serious trouble ahead. Better explain your case carefully to your doctor, and ask him about your taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Then do as he says. Get the best medicine, always.

HOW WATER ACTS.

Its Expansion and Contraction and Its Solvent Powers.

Water contracts as it falls from the normal boiling point, 212 degrees, until it reaches 32 degrees. Below that degree it expands, and at 32 degrees, the freezing point, it will expand enough to burst pipes and vessels holding it.

When the pressure of the air is below normal, water boils at a lower temperature than 212 degrees. This is noticed before a rain, when the barometer shows by a falling mercury a decreased air pressure. This also explains why water boils away more rapidly, quickly or at a lower temperature in the mountains, where the pressure of the air is less than on the seacoast or in the valleys. If sugar or salt is added to water the temperature of the boiling point is raised a few degrees. As a rule, as water is heated it will hold a greater amount of a substance in solution. A familiar exception is the fact that ice water will dissolve twice as much lime as boiling water. At the other extreme boiling water will dissolve seventeen times as much saltpeter as will cold water. But water varies in its solvent powers regardless of heat. One pound of water will hold two pounds of sugar in solution, but only two ounces of common salt.

EFFECT OF THE FOOD LAW.

Driving Many Worthless Catarrh Medicines Out of Existence.

The Pure Food and Drug Law, which went into effect the first of January, has already shown the good that will follow its enforcement.

Many worthless remedies, that have been advertised for the cure of catarrh, a disease that is universally prevalent, have been driven out of existence by the Pure Food Law.

The effect of this is to increase the sale of remedies that are valuable and that fulfill the provisions of the law. Hyomei, for example, is meeting with a larger sale than ever before, and J. W. McCollum & Co. still sell it under a guarantee that it will cure catarrh or the money will be refunded. Hyomei is a scientific treatment that is recommended by the best physicians. It cures catarrh without stomach dosing through inhaling medications that go right to the affected spots.

By breathing Hyomei three or four times daily through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, its medicated, healing air penetrates to the most remote parts of the nose, throat and lungs, searches out and kills all catarrhal germs, and soothes and heals any irritation in the mucous membrane.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00, extra bottles if needed, 50c, and is sold by J. W. McCollum & Co. under the guarantee that it will cure or cost nothing.

Frankincense.

Frankincense is the purest of all incense. It is a gum resin from an Arabian terebinth. To obtain this a deep incision is made in the trunk and below it a narrow strip of bark peeled off. When the exudation has hardened, the incision is deepened. In about three months the resin has acquired a sufficient degree of consistency. It is gathered in large quantities and packed in goatskins. It was formerly believed that the trees which yielded frankincense were infested by winged serpents, and the only way to be rid of them and to get at the treasure was by burning gum styrax, an odoriferous balsam of aromatic smell. Frankincense was forbidden to be used for embalming, as it was sacred to sacrificial purposes. The Israelites were strictly prohibited from compounding it. Now it is used largely in Roman Catholic and high church ceremonies.

KIDNEY TROUBLES

The kidneys are essential organs for keeping the body free from impurities. If they should fail to work death would ensue in very short time. Inflammation or irritation caused by some feminine derangement may spread to some extent to the kidneys and affect them. The cause can be so far removed by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that the trouble will disappear.

When a woman is troubled with pain or weight in loins, backache, swelling of the limbs or feet, swelling under the eyes, an uneasy, tired feeling in the region of the kidneys, she should lose no time in commencing treatment with

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

It may be the means of saving her life. Read what this medicine did for Kate A. Hearn, 520 West 47th Street, New York, who writes:—

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"I owe a debt of gratitude to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it has saved my life. I suffered with kidney trouble, irregularities and painful periods, and my blood was fast turning to water. I used your medicine for some time and it has made me strong and well."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs cures Female Complaints, such as Falling and Displacements, and Organic Diseases. Dissolves and expels Tumors at an early stage. It strengthens and tones the Stomach. Cures Headache, General Debility and invigorates the whole system. For derangement of the Kidneys in either sex Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is excellent.

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female illness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice. It is free.

FLORIDA FERTILIZERS.

Among other matters of importance referred to in the report of State Chemist Rose, a copy of which has just been received by The Sun, is the reference to the manufacture of phosphate into fertilizer. The State Chemist refers to the industry as follows: "Not only does Florida furnish the larger portion of the world's phosphate, exporting nearly 1,000,000 tons per annum of the highest grade material known, but recently there has been established in the State several of the largest, up-to-date fertilizer factories in the United States. Our State no longer has to send away her phosphate rock for treatment to be returned as finished goods, but has begun to manufacture her raw materials into fertilizers ready for application to the soil. Large quantities of high grade superphosphates are now exported, as well as raw rock, while cargoes of potash and ammoniates are now directly imported into Florida sea ports. No State in the Union is better equipped to furnish the consumer, direct from the factory, the necessary fertilizers required at prices that can, and do, compete with the older manufacturers of the world. There are now in Jacksonville and Pensacola five large acid chambers and complete fertilizer factories, capable of turning out from 200 to 300 tons per day of fertilizers, while at Marianna, Gainesville, Orlando and other interior points are reliable manufacturers fully equipped to handle large quantities of fertilizers."

THE OPTIMIST.

The optimist, while he sees much of the evil, sees also much of the good. He sees more of the beauty, hears more of the music; his mental vision is keener, his spiritual insight deeper. His whole view of life is one of promise. When the problems, vexations, and temptations come, he stands squarely in his path, and by attitude and expression declares his firm belief in that ultimate good. He has many experiences, and sometimes he fails; but he rises stronger in resolution for having discovered a weakness. There is in him something that never yields. He looks upon evil as something to be overcome. He makes effort, in proportion to this does he elevate himself to a higher plane of life. He has a mission in the world, and proceeds to do his work. This is usually done without demonstration. His force is like the sublime forces of the universe—silent, but always acting. Like the pessimist, his life and thoughts are contagious; unlike the pessimist, he is always welcome. If the two come face to face, he will never yield to the latter's influence. He knows that eternal truth and goodness are working through him, and he believes in their ultimate triumph.

The South Carolina dispensary has been abolished by the Legislature. An election will be held in May in the dispensary counties to decide between local dispensaries and prohibition. No saloon licenses will be granted in the State.

And now State county desires to be divided—that is, some of the people wish to form a new county. Probably another case of not enough offices to go round.

EQUALITY AND LIBERTY.

Great movements often owe their success to great words. In "equality" the Socialists have a great word, an inspiring word, a word to conjure with, a word to command the allegiance and enthusiasm of multitudes. It was this word "equality," says The Wall Street Journal, which led to the American Revolution. It was put in the very forefront of the Declaration of Independence. "All men," said the immortal document, "are born free and equal;" and the idea of equality has from that day to the present prevailed powerfully among the American people. But the equality of the Declaration of Independence, the equality which the American people have always held as a corner stone of their republic, is political equality, the equality of every individual under the law, to the end that every man, rich or poor, high or low, strong or weak, talented or foolish, shall stand upon exactly the same level of opportunity with the protection of the police power of the government.

But this is something very different from the equality which Socialism advocates. Their system has for its ultimate aim equality of condition, involving an equal division of all the fruits of industry and of enterprise. The dunces and the geniuses under such a system would receive the same reward. The industrious and the lazy would share alike. The courageous and the cowardly would stand on the same platform. This extraordinary idea amounts to a proposition to wipe out, by legislative enactment, the stamp of inequality which the hand of the Almighty has put upon the human race. It is, of course, preposterous and impossible. And yet the idea of equality appeals powerfully to the imagination of multitudes of people, and it serves to give to Socialism the popular strength which in many places it is securing.

The opponents of Socialism, however, have a stronger word than equality to inscribe upon their banners. It is the word liberty. Equality of condition such a Socialism proposes would put ambition and endeavor and enterprise and genius in shackles. It would be an act of tyranny. It would reduce the high without elevating the low. But liberty means the severing of shackles, the giving wings to imagination and opportunity to ambition, enterprise and courage. It means that every human being shall have the chance to make the most of that measure of ability with which nature has endowed him. If it were possible by the socialistic system to put the world on a plane of absolute equality, what sort of a place would the earth be to live in? It is inequality which gives that variety to life which constitutes its highest charm. It is individual liberty that makes life worth living, the liberty that presents to each person the glorious opportunity to achieve the most of and for himself, so that each secure at once that satisfaction of personal achievement as well as the benefit of all the others achieve, as no man works for himself without at the same time contributing to the common wealth. No interpretation of Socialism, no description of the state of collectivism offers any adequate compensation for that loss of liberty which is involved in its philosophy.

August Waters, the colored politician who "bobs up serenely" and leads his forces upon the occasion of every political campaign, announces that a meeting of the Citizen's Club will be held in Riving Sun Hall within the next two or three days, the date to be decided upon later, for the purpose of discussing the municipal politics situation, and to nominate a municipal ticket. Gus says his club is absolutely opposed to taxation without representation, and that he proposes to work along these lines in the municipal campaign which will soon come on.

with local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrrh. Send for testimonials free.

EDUCATE CHILDREN

Every child has a right to such an education as will qualify for life's duties. This is recognized as a patriotic duty by the State. The permanence of our political institutions depends on the intelligence of our citizenship. "The bayonets of foreign soldiers are less to be feared than the ballots of ignorant voters." The welfare of the State depends more on the moral and religious training of her citizens than on their intellectual training, yet the State makes no provision for this moral training. In some cases it makes it difficult or even impossible to secure the moral and religious training of the mind at all. There must be a training of the moral sensibilities, particularly the will. Not all this is the duty of the church, but the largest part is the function of home. Every child deprived, by whatever means, of this education and training is defrauded out of an inalienable right, and when he comes into the inheritance of his citizenship he may be depended upon to avenge himself on the society that perpetrated the fraud upon him. In reference to the views of infidels, atheists and others, the Bible is cast out of the public schools, and all school books are stripped bare of everything that might tend to build up and strengthen the child's moral character. It is cruelty to withhold from children this higher and greater training. Children have rights which the State is bound to respect. It disregards them at its own peril.

TREED AND NETTED.

The Way Hunters Capture the Orang Outang Alive.

Trapping the smaller members of the monkey family is a comparatively easy matter, but the hunter who wishes to secure live specimens of the orang outang cannot have recourse to the usual methods and has to employ a laborious process. The process is based upon the fact that the orangs have a liking for certain trees and frequent these to the exclusion of other nearby growths. They seem to regard them as a sanctuary and flee to them in time of danger. Ascertaining a tree particularly favored, the hunter first drives his quarry to its branches; then while his beaters keep up a din for the purpose of preventing an attempt at escape the natives are set to work to chop at the trees within a radius of fifty feet all about the simian fortress. No trunk is cut completely through, but is left with just enough fiber to hold the tree in position. This work is quickly accomplished with the large corps of servants, and at a signal one of the trees is toppled over. The chopping has been so done that the falling tree carries with it its neighbor, and in the twinkling of an eye the trees within a radius of fifty feet from the marked tree lie upon the ground, leaving the orang outangs with no opportunity for getting away through their leafy avenues of escape. The remainder of the process simply consists of chopping down the tree of refuge and throwing nets over the escaping orangs, by which they soon become entangled in their efforts to throw off the incumbrance.

TRICKS IN ARITHMETIC.

Subtract 45 From 45 and Have 45 as a Remainder.

If you were asked to subtract 45 from 45 and have 45 as a remainder, you would be likely to say that the proposition is either a "catch" or an impossibility. But here it is, set down in plain figures, and you will find that it is neither one nor the other:

9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
8 6 4 1 9 7 5 3 2

Here, you see, are the nine digits from 9 to 1 written down in that order, and below them are the same digits from left to right, and you will see that each line makes 45, and you will find that the remainder—the third line—adds up 45.

Another little exercise is to set down the following fifteen figures and then see if you can use six of them in such a way as to make a total of 21:

One way of doing it is to take the two 1's, one 5 and one 1, which make four figures, footing up 20, and then to use two other figures as a fraction to represent one. For example, 7 plus 7 plus 5 plus 1 plus 3-3 equals 21.—Baltimore Sun.

Parrot Pie.

Parrot pie is one of the delicacies over which visitors to Australia rave. As the fruit season opens the parrots and parakeets come by thousands, like locusts, and, settling on the trees, feed upon the fruit until nothing but the stones is left behind. They are shot while gorging themselves. The flesh, though very dark, is said to be delicious in flavor and almost to taste of the cherries, peaches and plums on which the birds have fed. They are said to be more succulent than pigeons and altogether superior to the palate.

ARMY ROASTED BY BURBANK.

Officer. Whose Filipino Wife Caused His Trouble. Out of Pen. Leavenworth, Kans., Feb. 14.—Ex-Lieutenant Sidney S. Burbank was released from the federal penitentiary here Tuesday after serving nearly fifteen months.

Burbank's engagement in 1903 to a prominent society woman of Leavenworth precipitated a suit by his Filipino wife, Mrs. Concepcion Vasquez, of Valladolid, Occidental Negros, who filed her claims with the war department to prevent the marriage. Two years ago Burbank returned to the Philippines with his regiment, and the Filipino woman filed an action in the civil courts for abandonment and non-support. She was granted a separation, and Burbank was ordered to pay her $50 a month alimony for the support of their child. Later Burbank was tried by courtmartial, and convicted of embezzling company funds and of other conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman.

Burbank asserted that he had been the victim of a conspiracy, and was convicted because he lacked influence.

"There are dozens of army officers who are living with these Filipino women," declared he; "but they are fortunate enough to escape the clutches of the blackmailers. I fell into their grasp."

Burbank declared that in a short time he would tell everything he knows about his case, and when he does, it will cause one of the greatest sensations in army affairs in recent years.

"I am through with the 'Yankee Doodle army,'" he said, "and would not wear the uniform of an officer again if I could."

Burbank denied the truth of the rumor that he is to marry the Leavenworth woman to whom he became engaged while stationed at Fort Leavenworth.

"I do not want her name dragged into my case again," he said.

Rising From the Grave.

A prominent manufacturer, Wm. A. Feltwell, of Lucama, N. C., relates a most remarkable experience. He says: "After taking less than three bottles of Electric Bitters, I feel like one rising from the grave. My trouble is Bright's disease, in the Diabetes stage. I fully believe Electric Bitters will cure me permanently, for it has already stopped the liver and bladder complications which have troubled me for years." Guaranteed at all druggists'. Price only 50c.

His Tribute to Temperance.

The temperance reformer was justly proud of having converted the biggest drunkard in the little Scotch town and induced him—he was the local gravedigger—to get up on the platform and testify. This is how he did it: "My friends," he said, "I never thought to stand upon this platform with the proverb on one side of me and the toon clerk on the other side of me. I never thought to tell ye that for a whole month I haven't touched a drop of anything. I've saved enough to buy me a braw oak coffin wi' brass handles and brass nails—and if I'm a teetotaler for another month I shall be wantin' it!"

The secret of long life is Health. Ballard's HOREHOUND SYRUP

COUGHS, COLDS, CRUP, BRONCHITIS, AND PULMONARY DISEASES.

Wm. J. H. McNeill, of Salt Lake City, Utah, writes: "I am eighty years old and have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup for many years. It has cured me of many ailments and other like diseases." Sizes 25c, 50c and 1.00.

JAP COOLIES TO BE BARRED.

Their Exclusion Is Proposed to Congress by the President.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Late Tuesday night it was stated that President Roosevelt, through Secretary Root, has proposed to Speaker Cannon and to the chairman of the senate and house committees on immigration, and other republican leaders in congress, that a clause be inserted in the immigration bill now pending in congress, which will bar Japanese coolie labor from the United States.

Mayor Schmitz's San Francisco delegation favors such a provision. Mayor Schmitz and his associates received a message from the president saying that he desired to confer with them at the White House.

It is admitted at the Japanese embassy that representations have been exchanged between the Japanese ambassador, Viscount Aoki, and Secretary Root, but the nature of the communications are kept secret.

Bennette Has Surrendered.

Columbus, Ga., Feb. 14.—Ige Bennette, the young man who killed Mose Jackson, a negro, several days ago, surrendered to the police Tuesday. He has been spending the past week with relatives in Alabama. A warrant, charging him with murder, was first issued, but the provocation the young man received was such changed to voluntary manslaughter. He was bound over in the sum of $500 and made bond.

Boiler Shops Destroyed.

Philadelphia, Feb. 14.—The pattern and boiler shops at Cramps ship yards, together with four small buildings adjoining the plant, were destroyed by fire Wednesday. The fire started in the pattern shop and spread so rapidly that the occupants of the buildings had barely time to escape. Several firemen were injured by flying debris.

For Biliousness and Sick Headache

Take Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup. It sweetens the stomach, aids digestion and acts as a gentle stimulant on the liver and bowels without irritating these organs. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup cures biliousness and habitual constipation. Does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Remember the name Orino and refuse to accept any substitute. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Report Not Yet Confirmed.

Paris, Feb. 14.—There was a rumor on the Bourse Wednesday that Premier Clemenceau had resigned. The report could not be confirmed, but in well informed circles the premier's retirement under the present adverse vote in the chamber of deputies, without waiting an adverse vote in the chamber of deputies, would not cause any surprise. He has been suffering for over a week from an attack of influenza.

A Baby

Should be sunshine in the house, and will be if you give it White's Cream Vermifuge, the best worm medicine offered to suffering humanity. This remedy is becoming the permanent fixture of all households. A mother with children can't get along without a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge in the house. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Egoism of Authors.

"Very few literary men get rich." "Perhaps it's just as well they don't," answered Miss Cayenne. "If a literary man got rich enough to found libraries he wouldn't permit people to read any but his own books."—Washington Star.

Special Announcement Regarding the National Pure Food and Drug Law.

We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not affected by the National Pure Food and Drug law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults. J. W. McCollum & Co.

LA GRIPPE

Pneumonia follows La Grippe but never follows the use of

FOLEY'S Honey and Tar

It stops the Cough and heals the lungs. Prevents Pneumonia and Consumption.

Mrs. G. VACUM, of 181 Osgood St., Chicago, writes: "My wife had La Grippe and it left her with a very bad cough on her lungs which Dr. J. W. McCollum and Tar cured completely."
